Extended Simple Reading

The Ageless Appeal of Numerology
About the Author

Albert Court has been crafting numerology charts for several years.

He learned by reading the traditional texts by the great names in the field, from Cheiro to Juno Jordan, and applying what he learned, then reviewing the parallels between the indicators in his charts and the feedback he got from the people whose charts he prepared.

There were many prominent people among those for whom Albert prepared charts. He followed their personal and professional highs and lows for years afterward and was impressed how often the major events, good and bad, could be seen to align with significant points on their charts which he prepared.

The positive feedback from his friends and clients, and the many questions they asked about Numerology, gave Albert a lot of encouragement to start writing his own book about it.

Albert said that Numerology is the easiest of the New Age disciplines to learn and understand.

You don’t need to be good at math.

You just need an open mind, patience and a sincere interest in helping people.

Albert put the emphasis from the first page to the last on using Numerology to have a positive effect on our lives.

He provides clear explanations which will help you to create charts for yourself and your friends.

He takes you through full readings to help you more easily start to produce your own readings. You get blank charts which you can print out.

He shows you how to do a detailed reading which covers the person’s whole life.
And, he also shows you a way to produce a quick, but often surprisingly accurate, reading for those times when you or the person you’re doing a reading for, has little time available.
How to use this Book

I use a traditional form of Numerology known as Pythagorean Numerology.

I started doing Numerology, like many other numerologists I’ve spoken with, because of my interest during my late teen years in all New Age pursuits. I found Numerology easy to learn and very popular with many of my friends – a factor that was very important to me then and since.

The people that I did readings for or taught about Numerology mainly want information which they can use. That's why I focused on making this e-book a handbook, more than a detailed history.

But, I've also included some brief details about some of the most significant points how Numerology has evolved over the last thousand years or so. Yes, it really is at least that old!

That’s covered briefly in a section at the back of the book.

I’ve put the practical information for finding and reviewing your special numbers in detail first because that’s what most of the people I’ve discussed this with say they want to understand and be able to use.

With this arrangement, you can make time to read the background material when you feel the need.

I’ve focused the practical section of the book the particular system I use, which Numerologists call “Pythagorean” Numerology.

There is another popular system, called “Chaldean” Numerology. I learned the basics of the Chaldean system of Numerology but found that it was much more involved. It requires anyone using it to have, or acquire some knowledge of other New Age areas, including Astrology.

If you have the time and also an interest in the other New Age disciplines, or want to progress to becoming a full-time professional Numerologist, then you should consider also learning as much as you can about the Chaldean system and the related New Age fields.

It might take the average person a year or more to become proficient.
But, this ebook will give you enough information to produce your own Essential Numbers and review their effect on your life with much less effort, cost and time.

You can also prepare charts for other people; your friends and even celebrities whose birth date and other relevant information is usually available through the media and the Internet.

I know one lady who is very interested in the real lives of several actors. For her own entertainment, she creates Charts for those she is particularly interested in and updates them each year. She also prepares a new chart when they change partners and says that she can usually get a good idea whether the new relationship will last that way.

I have been very satisfied with the results and the positive feedback which I got from using Pythagorean Numerology for readings or demonstrations.

No Hard Math Required

Please don’t let the word “calculations” scare you.

You never have to add beyond 100 and mostly much lower than that.

You can always use a pocket calculator or the one provided in your computer system.

When is a “Y” a Vowel or a Consonant?

Numerologists treat the letter “Y” as a vowel when:

1) There is no other vowel (A, E, I, O or U) in the word, or
2) It is the tail of the word – Jenny or Harry, for example.

Numerologists treat the letter “Y” as a consonant when:

1) It is pronounced “Y” – Yolande, or
2) It is within the word and pronounced like a lower-case “i” – Cynthia.
Your Most Important Numbers

There are several important numbers which we need to find when we want to review the influences of Numerology on a person’s life:

Master Numbers: These numbers; 11, 22 and (for some Numerologists) 33, are the only two-digit numbers which are considered to have their own significance, so they are not further reduced to a single digit during your calculations.

Your Birthday Number: This number is believed by some Numerologists to represent our hidden side. It can be an influence on your life but we generally place much more significance on the Life Number which is sometimes referred to as the “Ruling” Number.

Your Heart's Desire Number: This is the Numerological reference to your basic motivation and desires.

Your Image Number: This represents the impression which you project to other people.

Your Life Number: This number indicates the focus of your life in Numerological terms. Numerologists who believe in re-incarnation say that the number represents the main lesson which you must learn in this life.

Your Personal Number: Sometimes referred to as the “Expression” number. This is an indicator of your inborn abilities and talents (we all have them!)

Your Reality Number: This number affects your life after you reach the last Numerological Peak.

Your Year Number: This number changes each year through a nine-year cycle. The effect represented by the calculated number can be enhanced or reduced by the actions and focus of the individual as well as their environment.
Master Numbers

The numbers 11 and 22 are traditional master numbers in Numerology.

The number 11 is regarded as representing strong visionary energy.

The number 22 is regarded as an indicator of the ability to take action on a unique level.

In recent times, some numerologists have raised 33 also to the status of a Master Number. They say that it combined the visionary power of 11 and the ability to act of 22.

My personal preference is to just use 11 and 22 as Master Numbers.

The results I have got with this approach have been good enough for me to have no desire to add 33 as another Master Number.

But, that is a choice which you may make when you have become familiar with the method that I’ve detailed here.

The inclusion of 33 as a Master Number, if you decide to go that way, will only require you to watch for its occurrence in charts as you prepare them.

You might want to try a few charts of people you know or celebrities whose details you are sure you have accurate knowledge about both ways and then decide which was is more to your liking.
Your Life Number

The most fundamental number which we use when we start up a new numerology chart is your Life Number.

This number is obtained by adding together the digits which comprise your date of birth.

To discover your Life Number, write down your date of birth in figures the month, then the day, and then the year.

Now, please add them all together.

Here is a simple example for a person who was born on 20 April 1980

the month: 4 , then the day: 20 , and then the year: 1980

Now, please add together all of the digits:

4 + 2 + 0 + 1 + 9 + 8 + 0 = 24

Now, if you have a number with more than one digit, please add them together:

2 + 4 = 6 (substitute your own figures, of course)

When you have a single digit left, that is your Life Number.

Some books and instructors on Numerology will have you add the numbers together like this:

the month: 4
the day: 20
the year: 1980

2104

That seems okay, because you will get the same result as I did when I did it above.

But, this can cause you to overlook what Numerologists call a Master Number, 11 or 22. Neither of these should ever be reduced further in this section of our calculations.
I will explain their significance for my readers in whose charts they appear in a later section.

Life Number #1
This is the Number of a person that works best when they are in control of their own destiny. This can cause friction and worse in your early years but, with perseverance, you can reap the rewards you earn.

Life Number #2
You need to learn to work with others. With your natural tact, you can shine in a group and prosper in a strong relationship like a marriage.

Life Number #3
You have a great desire and latent ability to communicate with others. Develop your ability (your learning skills are also above average.

Life Number #4
You have the ability to be a good organizer but it may seem that you need to expend more effort than others to get the rewards you earn.

Life Number #5
You will be enthusiastic and adaptable, able to succeed at almost anything if you apply yourself.

Life Number #6
You are a born homemaker, getting great satisfaction from that role and its rewards.

Life Number #7
You can, and should, tap into your abundant intuition but be careful that you inward focus does not cut you off from those close to you

Life Number #8
You are focused and capable but sometimes all your thoughts are dominated by the need to acquire more and more material possessions to the exclusion of almost everything else. This may change when you reach a point where you feel your own needs are amply covered into the future.
Life Number #9

You have a generous disposition and energy to accomplish much. But, you must remember to satisfy your own needs or other people’s demands may drain all your resources.
Your Personal Number

Your Personal Number, also called your Expression Number, is regarded as a very important number because it represents your personal qualities and it gives some idea of your potential abilities.

To produce it, give each letter of your full name when you were born a number value.

Don't worry, like all the figuring I ask you to do in this book, it's really simple.

This box shows you the value assigned to each letter.

Print the full name you were given at birth into the middle row.

Put letter’s value in the first box:

In the box above it if it is a vowel.

In the box below it if it is a consonant.

After you’ve done a few charts, you will find that this becomes second nature for you.

Print out your full name below.

Then, count the number of times each letter appears and multiply the number by the letter’s number equivalent.

Now, add them all together just like we did before with your birth date.

\[ \text{Your Personal Number: } _____ \]

Your Personal # 1
You value your independence and have a strong desire to succeed.
At times, you need to realize that you need to listen more closely to the views and desires of those around you.

Your Personal # 2
You need to develop your natural ability to get on well with other people. You are a natural negotiator, able to see the other person’s point of view.
Try to remember to look after your own interests and not let other people’s ideas take over your own thinking.

Your Personal # 3
You have a compulsion to express yourself, often creatively. You attract attention because you are always positive.
Keep yourself focused on finishing what you start and give your best effort to each task or you may waste much time and effort.

Your Personal # 4
You like things to be orderly and fair. This influences people to trust you.
You can be great at organizing the most complicated deals but may not always get the rewards or recognition that you deserve.
Your Personal # 5
Your are naturally optimistic and good-natured. You like variety but you tend to abandon projects or people sometimes.

Your Personal # 6
You have a strong attachment to your family and their needs.
Be careful that your own needs are met or you may find yourself worn down.

Your Personal # 7
You want to continue learning throughout your life and have the ability to search beneath the surface of any topic.
Your strong focus makes you a great communicator.
But, you probably cannot be bothered with small talk and discussing things outside your areas of interest. You must learn to control this.
Relax and give of yourself by discussing what is important to those close to you, even though it is not of great interest to you.

Your Personal # 8
You have the qualities to achieve your personal targets, however large.
Give yourself some time in other areas or your strong focus may rob you of many possible benefits of your material success.

Your Personal # 9
You may put helping others above achieving their own goals.
You have much to give but need to be wary of taking on too much.
You probably have strong creative abilities and should give yourself some time to developing them just for the pleasure they give you and others.
Your Reality Number

To calculate your Reality Number, just add your Life Path Number to you Expression (or Personal) Number.

That’s a very simple calculation but this Number can have a great positive influence on your later years, especially if you sometimes feel that your have not achieved nearly as much as you felt capable of despite your best efforts through previous years.

Real 1

You draw on leadership skills which you learned when you were younger.

Real 2

You could excel at helping others to find a way to get along with those around them

Real 3

You may express long-repressed creative abilities and help others to develop theirs.

Real 4

Your proven organizational skills can be used to help others achieve their dreams.

Be careful that you don't become domineering with the attitude that your way is the only way.

Real 5

You seek change in travel or new pursuits which you may have been unable to do earlier.

Real 6

You help improve the existence of people that are suffering financially, physically or emotionally.

Always be sure that the people want your help.

Real 7

You enjoy research and finding your own solutions.
Be careful that this does not cut you off from the social life you deserve and need.

Real 8
You have probably had to work harder than most to achieve but you succeeded. Now you can enjoy the fruits of your struggle and may decide to help others who are still struggling.

Real 9
Your central desire is to help others but you must ensure your own security so that you are not completely drained by their demands especially if your health is not 100%.
Your Heart’s Desire Number

The Heart’s Desire Number is sometimes referred to as the Soul Urge Number and indicates the motivations at the core of your being.

To get this number, write out the vowels in your full name at birth and then convert them to numbers just as we did before with all the letters in your full name.

You may be wondering how we handle the letter Y?

Where it is pronounced, as in the name Yogi, it is treated as a consonant. So, we don’t use it when calculating Yogi’s Heart’s Desire Number.

Where it is not pronounced, but obscured by the sound of the letter before it, as in the name Katy, it is treated as a vowel. So, we would use it when we produce Katy’s Heart’s Desire Number.

Add together the totals to get your Heart’s Desire Number.

Hearts Desire #1

You seek freedom to express yourself and achieve goals you set above those which others may impose on you.

Hearts Desire #2

Your central focus is to connect and work with others.
Hearts Desire #3
You seek to use your intuition which is probably more powerful than usual and can become more fine-tuned as you become more experienced in assessing the signals which you get from it.

Hearts Desire #4
You crave order in your life and cannot be comfortable until you achieve it.

Hearts Desire #5
You will only be truly happy if you can express your ideas and desires without restriction.

Hearts Desire #6
You will be happiest if you can give expression to your strong creative abilities. But, you must also ensure that you build a framework of financial and personal support to support yourself and those close to you.

Hearts Desire #7
You want to teach others from your knowledge and experience but you need to remember that others may have information and ideas which you should listen to.

Hearts Desire #8
You want to achieve material success so that you can follow your own path. Be careful that you do not lose the affection and support of others because of your single-minded focus on your own goals.

Hearts Desire #9
You want to help others. This can sometimes appear to be interference rather than help in the eyes and minds if you come on too strongly.
Your Image Number

The image number is compiled from the number values of the consonants in your full birth name. Please remember to include each Y where you can hear the sound in your name, as explained earlier.

Your Birthday Number

This is the easiest one of all to work out - it's the date of the day of the month that you were born on, from 1 to 31 which you reduce to a single digit.

Numerologists vary in how they treat this day of the month.

Some do not add the digits together as with the other numbers to arrive at a single digit. They say that you should use whichever number from 1 to 31 as your Birthday Number.

But, my experience is with reducing the day to a single digit and the feedback I had over several years made me feel that this is the method I should recommend and explain to you.

If your birthday date is the 10th, 20th or 30th then the influence is the same as it is for those born on the 1st, 2nd or 3rd.

Birthday #1
This is the Birthday Number of the individualist.

Birthday #2
This is the Birthday Number of people that can work well with other people and inspire them.

Birthday #3
This Birthday Number indicates a person with a positive and very active mind.

Birthday #4
This is the Birthday Number of the Organiser. Provided you allow yourself time for social activities and other energy-rebuilding things, you have a good chance of achieving whatever goals you set for yourself.

Birthday #5
This is the Birthday Number of the Communicator. You like to be active and always ready to pursue some new interest. Ensure that you keep commitments that you make to others even if you have become less interested in the task or them.
Birthday #6
This is the Birthday Number of the Homemaker, focused on nurturing and protecting their home and family. You need to also develop interests outside of the home; sport or a hobby that gives your mind something external to engage it from time to time.

Birthday #7
This is the Birthday Number of the Tester who learns best from personal experience. That is a way to ensure the lessons are well-learned but it can be expensive. In later life, many people like you find great satisfaction in passing on the benefits of their experimentation to younger people.

Birthday #8
This is the Birthday Number of people who want to achieve financial and personal freedom and will work whatever hours to achieve that. For some, the accumulation of material assets become the focus instead of enjoying the benefits of their hard work and sharing them with the people closest to them.

Birthday #9
This is the Birthday Number of the Humanitarian. People like you are responsible for helping people around our Planet raising their living standards and future options without much thought for their own benefit.

But, sometimes, their goals are based on their own beliefs which conflict with the beliefs and aspirations of the people they are genuinely trying to help.

Birthday #11
This is the Birthday Number of the visionary. You can inspire others and create much good for yourself and those you care about. But, sometimes, you focus too hard on your personal vision with little regard for the views and desires of other people.

Birthday #22
This is the Birthday Number of the Action-taker. You may a latent capacity to achieve great things. You must be careful to ensure that you accept some input from others and don’t become obsesse to the point where you are unwilling to share the fruits of your joint efforts appropriately.
Your Year Number

Your Year Number shows where you are in your current numerology cycle of nine years.

For this number, you add the number equivalent of your day of birth, plus the month that you were born to the number of the current year.

For instance, if you were born on the 5\textsuperscript{th} of November (the year doesn’t matter for this calculation), and you want to know what sort of year 2010 might be for you, then you just add $5 + 1 + 1 + 2 + 1 = 10$.

Since, we ignore the zeros, 2010 will be the first year of your new nine-year cycle.

Your Birth Day + Your Birth Month + the Year = ......

........... ........... ........... ........... = ......

Your Year Number = ...........

The #1 Year

This represents a year for a new project, hobby or even a relationship. Your energy level is likely to be higher than usual so that you can handle the extra load that the additional activity will cause.

The #2 Year

This represents a year for consolidation, to improve your current projects etc. Give some time to examining and strengthening your current activities and commitments rather than taking on even more.

The #3 Year

This represents a year where you should devote some time to enjoying the fruits of your hard work in the previous years. Make sure that you share what you have gained with those who continue to help and encourage you.

The #4 Year

This represents a year where your energy level and other reserves may be lower after you took some time off last year. Don’t become depressed or regretful; focus on learning how to improve the results you get from your hard work and decide whether perhaps you are dissipating your energy and other resources between too many projects.

The #5 Year
This represents a year for change, perhaps in the form of enhancements to your working methods and your social options rather than new projects. Take any reasonable change to travel and expend your knowledge of other ways to do things.

The #6 Year
This represents a year where you probably will need to put more effort into nurturing your family and improving your home environment. That means more work but you will probably also find yourself enjoying it more as you get more support from those around you as the year progresses.

The #7 Year
This represents a year where you can become more productive by putting some time into improving your mental agility and your peace of mind. Many people use this year to re-evaluate and strengthen their spiritual focus, whatever it may be.

The #8 Year
This represents the main financial year in your cycle. This may be a good year to profit from selling goods which you no longer use or value as much as you did, perhaps with a view to getting things which will help or amuse you more.

But, be careful that you get value for your goods and the money you spend. Don’t just look at getting the best price – remember that you may have more space, money and time which used to be spent maintaining the old, outdated gear.

The #9 Year
This represents the year for evaluating the previous years of the cycle, learning lessons which will help you in the next one and abandoning regrets and other negatives which are holding you back.
The Lessons

The Lessons are gaps in our knowledge or character which may cause problems for us if we do not work to remove or at least reduce our weakness in these areas.

They are indicated by the absence of particular numbers from our full name which we are given at birth.

For instance, if a baby is given the name Anne Morton Summers, we can work out the presence of any Karmic Lessons that she might have to face by laying out the name and converting the letters to the number equivalents:

A n n e  M o r t o n  S u m m e r s
1 5 5 5 4 6 9 2 6 5 1 3 4 4 5 9 1

She has the numbers 1 (2), 2 (1), 3 (1), 4 (3), 5 (5), 6 (2) and 9 (2).

But, the absence of 7 and 8 represents two areas which she needs to improve on during her life.

Numerologists that believe in Reincarnation say that the Karmic Lessons are indicators of lessons which we have not learned during previous lives.

What the Lessons Represent

For a 1 Lesson, represented by an absence of 1's in the name you are given at birth, you may find yourself letting others direct you too much. Look for ways to build up your for strength of purpose and take the initiative more often.

For a 2 Lesson, represented by an absence of 2's, you may be more successful in business or personal areas when you learn to listen to and cooperate with other people instead of thinking you are always right.

For a 3 Lesson, you should not devalue your own ability or knowledge. If, like many people with this Lesson represented in their Birth Name, you find it difficult to communicate with other people in all kinds of personal and business situations, get more practise - join a speaking club or even a drama group.
For a 4 Lesson, you may show a lack of focus and direction. You can change this in small steps. The best time to start is now.

For a 5 Lesson, you may be unsure of yourself and continue to miss out on marvellous opportunities and experiences unless you start to rely on your own judgement and develop some confidence in yourself and your future success.

For a 6 Lesson, you may need to become more willing to reach out and trust those around you to a greater extent than you have been comfortable with.

For a 7 Lesson, you could possibly reach greater levels of success than you can imagine right now if you develop and use your natural abilities rather than just doing enough to coast along.

For an 8 Lesson, you may need to concentrate on overcoming a tendency to spend whatever you earn, without regard to how you will provide for your future before circumstances change and it becomes more difficult to replenish your reserves.

For a 9 Lesson, your challenge may be to accept, understand and co-operate with those around you, whatever your differences in background, beliefs or goals.
The Debts

The appearance in your Numerology profile of the numbers 13, 14, 16 and 19 represent important challenges which may appear as you make your way through life.

At some time during its long history, Numerology was adopted by many people that also had an interest and belief in reincarnation. They gave these obstacles the name Karmic Debt, which they believed that people incurred due to mistakes made during previous lives.

However you regard them, the numbers that indicate these debts or obstacles are fairly common in people's numerological profiles.

They are regarded as more significant when they appear during the calculation of the most important numbers such as your Life Number, Image or Birth Day number.

A 13 Debt

A 13 Debt indicates that you may find it hard to focus on what is most important for achieving your goals and to keep yourself organized.

When you realize that being organized can be a great help to be better able to cope with the obstacles or challenges which we all inevitably meet, your enthusiasm to improve in this area will rapidly increase.

I know many people that have this pressure upon them and most of them have used it as a spur to success rather than an excuse for giving up.

A 14 Debt

If you have a 14 Debt, your challenge may seek to exploit any area of financial, personal or professional weakness and it is likely to occur without warning.

The best way to deal with this obstacle is to be prepared to the best of your ability, maintain the highest standards of commitment and resist those who want to draw you into risky or unhealthy areas or activities.
A 16 Debt
When you have a 16 Debt you may, at some time, have severe disappointment when something you have planned for and counted on fails unexpectedly. This can crush some people but, because you are now forewarned, you can find the inner strength and, often, external help to turn the event into a new and greater adventure.

A 19 Debt
If you find a 19 Debt when you draw up your Chart, it indicates that you may need to draw on your inner strength to overcome a major challenge at some time without much external help being available to you.

You should look for and treasure sincere friends that you can depend on. To get the best from any project for yourself, you should share your plans and the fruits of success with them.
Reaching the Peaks

As with almost everything in the natural world, there are cycles in your life. Numerologists try to point these out so that you can take the best advantage of them.

Most numerologists agree that these points, referred to as “Peaks”, are likely to be very significant in our lives. They may have a negative or positive emphasis, but even the most negative can be dealt with if you are prepared and confident about your own abilities.

The way you handle each of them can have a strong influence on how well you travel to your next peak.

I believe that “Peaks” may not be the best description because these years do not necessarily represent the best years of your life. They are important milestones that mark out the beginning of different periods on your journey through life.

The easiest way to learn how and where the peaks in your life occur is to draw a simple diagram like this one:

These three points at the base of the inner "pyramid" are where you put:

(a) The number representing the month of your birth at the left.

(b) The number representing the day of your birth in the center.
(c) The number representing the year of your birth on the right.

Always remember that you reduce each of these numbers to a single digit.

For this particular exercise, you can ignore the significant numbers 11 and 22. So, it is a simple matter to put the relevant numbers at the proper points on the diagram.

Using this diagram makes it easy for you to see and check the results.

Locating Your Numerological Peaks

Peak #1: This Peak marks when you start to reach Numerological maturity even though you reached biological, physical, and mental maturity many years before this Peak.

You may not handle the aspects of your life related to your first peak to your best advantage. A little patience and being sensitive to the reactions of other people close to you can help make everything go more smoothly.

The nature of your first Peak in your Numerological profile is linked to the total of the number equivalents of the month and day on which you were born.

To find the first peak in your life, we just have to subtract your Life Number from the number 36.

If you were born on the second of March in 1985, then you are working toward a Type 8 Peak in that first long climb.

Peak #2: During the period after you reach the second peak in your life, you will feel a greater need to give more of yourself, both personally and from your physical and financial resources, to help other people.

This can be a testing time for you.
You will take just nine years after passing your first peak to get to the second one.

To discover the type of Peak which is the second in your life, just add the number equivalents of the date of the day that you were born and the year.

If you were born on the first of March of 1990, then that second peak will be a Type 2 Peak.

Peak #3: After attaining the third Peak in your life, you should start to consolidate your emotional and financial position so that you are ready to take best advantage of the possibilities you will get in the usually more leisurely period after reaching the fourth peak. That’s because you may have to depend more on accumulated resources in that period.

The third cycle will take just another nine years to get you to your third Peak.

To find the number which indicates the nature of your third peak, we just have to add the number equivalents of your first and second Peaks.

If your first Peak was a #3 peak and your second Peak was a #6, then your third peak will be a #9.

Peak #4: This Peak signals a period when you will probably have more opportunity to expand your knowledge and share it with others.

You will have to depend on yourself more.

You need to look after your health and keep a careful eye on your financial situation.

But, don’t let worry or fear reduce your enjoyment of each day and take advantage of opportunities. They will still present themselves if you maintain a positive focus and continue to reach out to other people.
The fourth peak follows the previous pattern and is just 9 years after the third.

This one will, according to the best numerologists, have an influence through the rest of your life.

For the correct number equivalent of our Fourth Peak, add the number equivalents of your birth month and your birth year together.

If you were born in June of 1994, then that Fourth Peak will be a Type 2 Peak.

Significance of the Peak Numbers

This section shows the numerological significance of the different Peak Numbers.

1 Peak:
The number 1 is related, in numerology, to self-reliance and desire to take the lead. This is an admirable quality but, when you find this on the first peak in your numerological life, expect that all may not go smoothly.

Where it appears on any of the peaks except the highest, (which represents your reaching full maturity in numerological terms), it can be a sign that everything will not be smooth sailing but the journey to your next peak is a time when you will be able to accomplish something important for your own development.

Patience is a quality that you will need to get the best from the period after reaching a #1 Peak.

2 Peak:
This period is one where you will want to make progress on your personal and business goals.

It’s a period where you should also try to develop and improve your relationships in both areas.

You may find you are more attuned to subtle indications in your relationships and your environment generally. You will be more likely to notice and be able to make full use of any opportunities to cooperate and collaborate that appear during this period.

You are more likely to hear opportunity knocking. When that happens, don’t hesitate too long if you decide to take advantage of it or it will be gone to knock on someone else’s door.

3 Peak:
This can be a time when you find it less difficult than usual to clearly express your inner feelings.

It is also probably a good time to invest some time and energy in any artistic activity that you have wanted to do “some day”.

But, you may suffer regrets later if you do not maintain the level of effort you need to keep improving your business activities.

4 Peak:
The Type 4 Peak indicates a period where serious tasks may be performed.

At the same time, some effort should be applied to helping other people. That can have great benefits because many successful people only really started to be successful when they made service to other people a priority.

5 Peak:
You will feel more less bound by restrictions during the period after you reach a #5 Peak. I’m told that’s a wonderful feeling.

But, you should exercise some care because there are potential risks if you don’t think before you leap.

If this is your first Peak, you may pay less attention than you should to your future needs, because you feel that it will always be as easy as it is during this period to get the money or other resources you need to gratify your desires.

6 Peak:
The #6 Peak is an indication that support and obligation to your family will be particularly important during that phase of your life as you head toward your next Peak.
This will not always be easy to maintain and you will get little satisfaction if you cannot fulfil the demands that might be put on you.

But, it can be a time of great happiness and rewards (not always material) if you succeed.

7 Peak:
As you start on the period after reaching a #7 Peak, you should take up any opportunities to learn skills which will help you in future years.

You may have disappointments because you lack the resources or support to make the best use of these opportunities.

Where 7 is the number on the ultimate Peak in your life, it suggests that you will be able to learn more about those things that most interest you and also to pass on that knowledge to younger people that it could greatly benefit.

8 Peak:
The #8 Peak heralds a period when you can absorb and develop new ideas and put those you already have into practice, especially where they relate to your business or vocation.

While you might find ideas and opportunities to expand your business horizons, you must exercise some care about financial matters so that you do not expand so fast that your progress becomes too risky.

9 Peak:
The #9 Peak indicates the beginning of a period where you can benefit from greater exposure to new experiences and feelings.

Travel and new relationships can be especially fruitful during this period.

If your first Peak is a #9, then you may experience a distinct change in your type of business or develop a serious relationship with someone that has not been a major part of your life before.
How to Fill in Your Chart

Instructions

Filling in the Numerology Profile is straight-forward.

Just start at the top:

1) Fill in the Name of the Person whose Profile you are preparing.

Then, fill the three rows of boxes:

2) Print the person’s full name across the center row.

3) Put the number equivalent of each vowel above it in the top row.

4) Put the number equivalent of each consonant below it in the bottom row.

5) Use a similar box to record a name change if required. Then you can do a separate calculation to see what effects this might cause.

Some people do these calculations to get some idea of the possible effect of changing their name through taking their partner’s surname after marriage or before changing their name, either by application to the authorities or by simply taking up a new identity without going through the formal process.

Most experienced Numerologists agree that the full birth name seems to exert a major influence on your life even when you have changed your name by whatever means.

6) Now, you write in the Date of Birth.

7) That’s followed by your Life Number, Personal Number, the Heart’s Desire Number, then the Image Number, Birthday Number and your Year Number.

8) After that, list the Karmic Lessons, Debts and your Life Peaks.

I use the box on the left at the bottom for listing any significant information which requires more detail than I can fit in or around the previous sections.

9) Fill in the Peaks of the subject’s life journey.
Or, in the alternative version, which I use, you can fill in the “Noughts and Crosses” with the numbers of the subject’s Birth Date. Seeing which numbers, if any, are missing is much easier with this. Then, you won’t miss any Lessons which need to be covered.

I have given you a printable Chart with the Karmic Lessons and Debts termed Lessons/Debts and an alternative where they are called Lessons/Challenges.

I always use the Lessons/Debts version for the same reason I use Peaks on my Charts though I prefer Milestones; these are the traditional terms which almost all Numerologists use.

I also included printable sheets with the “Noughts and Crosses” replacing the blank lines.

Before you flip the page to see my calculations for this (fictitious) subject, I want you to print out whichever chart you prefer and try to do the full chart.

You might want to just fill out parts of the chart which you are comfortable with. It’s your decision.

Then, you might want to have a look at my calculations and perhaps try a name which you make up yourself.

It might be more interesting, when you feel ready to prepare a complete Chart, or even the Speed chart in the second section of the book, to choose the name of a well-known person whose biography you know and see what results you get.

Your first subject is:

Lessons:

2 X

For a 2 Lesson, represented by an absence of 2’s, you may be more successful in business or personal areas when you learn to listen to and cooperate with other people instead of thinking you are always right.

3 X

For a 3 Lesson, you should not devalue your own ability or knowledge. If, like many people with this Lesson represented in their Birth Name, you find it difficult to communicate with other people in all kinds of personal and business situations, get more practise - join a speaking club or even a drama group.

5 X

For a 5 Lesson, you may be unsure of yourself and continue to miss out on marvellous opportunities and experiences unless you start to rely on your own judgement and develop some confidence in yourself and your future success.

7 X

For a 7 Lesson, you could possibly reach greater levels of success than you can imagine right now if you develop and use your natural abilities rather than just doing enough to coast along.

Life Peaks

1\textsuperscript{st} = 32 Type: 9 Peak:

The #9 Peak indicates the beginning of a period where you can benefit from greater exposure to new experiences and feelings. Travel and new relationships can be especially fruitful during this period. If your first Peak is a #9, then you may experience a distinct change in your type of business or develop a serious relationship with someone that has not been a major part of your life before.

2\textsuperscript{nd} = 41 Type: 7 Peak:

As you start on the period after reaching a #7 Peak, you should take up any opportunities to learn skills which will help you in future years. You may have disappointments because you lack the resources or support to make the best use of these opportunities. Where 7 is the number on the ultimate Peak in your life, it suggests that you will be able to learn more about those things that most interest you and also to pass on that knowledge to younger people that it could greatly benefit.

3\textsuperscript{rd} = 50 Type: 7 Peak:

Where 7 is the number on the ultimate Peak in your life, it suggests that you will be able to learn more about those things that most interest you and also to pass on that knowledge to younger people that it could greatly benefit.

\[4^\text{th} = 59\text{ Type: 1 Peak:}\]

The number 1 is related, in numerology, to self-reliance and desire to take the lead. This is an admirable quality but, when you find this on the first peak in your numerological life, expect that all may not go smoothly.

Where it appears on any of the peaks except the highest, (which represents your reaching full maturity in numerological terms), it can be a sign that everything will not be smooth sailing but the journey to your next peak is a time when you will be able to accomplish something important for your own development.

Prepared by A Court  Date 12/05/08
(How did you do?)
All you Need is Practice

I hope that you are not overwhelmed by the prospect of calculating and laying out your Numerological profile in the standard way.

It really is just a matter of following the simple steps as I described them. The figuring is all simple and straight-forward.

You can easily check each item. Because some of the figures are used in different parts of the profile, you will probably find that any errors will almost leap out at you.

It does not take much time at all after you have had a couple of practice runs.

The actual preparation time for most of the charts which I did was not long. When I did them for other people, most of the time was for discussing different points with them and answering their questions.

Often, they commented on the relevance of certain points in the profile to important or memorable events in their lives. That made me feel I was on the right track.
Speed Numerology

With the increasing pace of our rapidly shrinking world and the time pressure that most of us feel every day, you probably are not surprised to learn that someone developed a quicker and simpler method of creating a numerological profile?

The strange thing is that some examples of this form of numerological calculation date back hundreds of years!

I had always thought that our forebears lived a much less harried way of life than we do.

This system is based on the same Pythagorean system of Numerology which I detailed in the previous section.

We can’t cover as many topics as we did before and may not drill down so far.

But, I’ve used this “short-hand” method to prepare quick charts for many people and always got good feedback from them.

I’ll include explanations of all the various parts of the diagram and what can be inferred from them. This will help you to get a thorough understanding of the system and may also help with the Full Charts which you prepare.

But I suggest that, like me, if you do these for other people, you cover the most important points and leave it at that unless you really do want to add more detail.

If you do them for other people, I think that the basics will be enough for most. “Leave them wanting more” is a very wise saying we can borrow from the stars of Show Business.

Some people are seriously interested in Numerology but many regard it as an interesting diversion and can become bored fairly quickly.

As you become more experienced, you will be able to make your presentation more interesting and you will find more people asking for full readings if you keep positive and never reveal anything you find in the Charts or repeat anything which anyone tells you about themselves.
The Simple Steps

Start with a grid like you used to play tic-tac-toe when you were a child.

Now, you use the digits which make up your date of birth to fill in the squares.

But, you follow the pattern shown in the second picture, putting all the 1’s in the box marked 1 and so on.

For our example, I will use the date 23rd of May, 1989

We will call the person whose chart we’re practicing with Mr. Example.

I suggest that you follow me through the example and then draw up your own chart.
Put the Birth Date at the top of the page and the filled-in grid below it.

Lucky Number

Some people add all the digits together, then reduce them to a single digit and use that as a lucky number.

It’s probably as good a system as any!

Mr. Example’s lucky number would be 1.

1 + 2 + 3 + 5 + 8 + 9 + 9 = 37. \quad 3 + 7 = 10 = 1

But, that’s just the start!

More Revelations

You can also use the information to deduce other factors which may have some influence during Mr. Example’s life.

Numerologists can find many facets of this which they will relate to the life of the person that they drew this chart for.

You need to have some space around the sides of the grid so that you can extend the power lines beyond the numbers. But, I’ve done a lot of these charts on business cards and the people I gave them to seem very satisfied. There’s not anything complicated, so almost anyone should be able to recall at least the most important points after taking a quick look at the chart again.

Power Lines

We will mark any full Power Lines (also called Arrows) on the person’s chart.

These are rows or columns where all three boxes have at least one number in them.

Mr. Example has three filled Power Lines:

1 + 2 + 3

2 + 5 + 8
1 + 5 + 9

Broken Lines

These are lines where some of the boxes have no numbers in them.

Mr. Example has four broken Power Lines:

1 4 7

Empty Power Lines

Mr. Example has no Empty Power Lines (lines with none of the three boxes having any numbers in them).

Personal Year

Add the digits of the day and month of the birth date to the digits comprising the current year to find out what part of Mr. Example’s current 9-year cycle he is in.

In 2009, this person would be in the 3rd Year of their current numerological cycle:

May: 5

Day: 23

Year: 2009

5 + 2 + 3 + 2 + 9 = 21 = 2 + 1 = 3
The Significance of the Numbers in Your Chart

Numerologists attach some importance to every number in your chart.

The significance of single numbers in a chart is similar to the meaning attributed to that number as a Personal Number.

Many people find that they have some numbers more than once in their chart.

This chapter will explain how most numerologists interpret the single and multiple numbers.

One

One 1: This indicates that you have the potential to express yourself well. But, most people that have only one 1 in their chart are limited in their ability to express their emotional desires and inner thoughts. They are also likely to be intolerant of other people’s different viewpoints to some degree.

Two 1s: The presence of the second 1 somehow gives more balance to your ability to express yourself verbally. You will also be better able to seriously consider and discuss other people’s differing viewpoints than if there was just a single 1 in your chart.

Three 1s: Many professional speakers have this in their chart. If you have this and also have one or more 2’s, 5’s or 8’s, then you are likely to be a rapid and enthusiastic talker. This can be good if you focus your chatter on subjects which also interest those around you.

If you do not have any 2’s, 5’s or 8’s in your chart, you are likely to be more reserved and skeptical.

Four 1s: Unlike those who are balanced with the presence of just two 1’s on their chart, the people who have four 1’s are deep thinkers with a lesser ability to express themselves. They are often misunderstood but accept their lot and keep smiling.
Over time, they become less communicative because of the difficulties they have encountered which means we all lose out because their ideas are often worth careful attention.

Five 1s: If you have more than four ones you are likely to have greater difficulties with verbal expression. But, you may be able to use your intellectual capacity and energy to develop non-verbal ways of expressing your ideas through music or other forms.

One 2: One two on your chart indicates a heightened degree of sensitivity and strong intuition. But, be careful about taking criticism or disagreement too much to heart.

Remember, friends can disagree but still remain friends.

Two 2s: Two 2’s give you a more balanced level of intuition and better capacity to deal with negativity from those around you. You are likely to have a higher than average rate of success when you pay attention to your first impressions.

Three 2s: If you have three 2’s in your chart, you may find the world around you less appealing than your own thoughts and dreams.

Those qualities may give you some success in theatre or other performing areas but, be warned, you will have to develop a mental armor to protect your feelings and your integrity.

Four or more 2s: With more than three 2’s in your chart, you are likely to be impatient and to react strongly without consideration of other’s views or feelings.

This can limit your social and business options unless you work hard on controlling your impulses and start to consider the effect of your actions and words on those around you.

One 3: With just one 3 in your chart, I expect you to be a moderately happy person. Your memory is probably better than average but could be improved even more with little effort.
Two 3s: With two 3’s in your chart, you have the qualities of the person with just one 3, but may have too much imagination to make the best use of those qualities.

You need to rein in your imagination when it might interfere with your social or business contacts.

Three 3s: If you have three 3’s, you are likely to prefer your own company and find it hard to create and maintain close relationships.

Only the realization of what benefits you are denying yourself and a determined effort at making friends can change the outlook for you.

Four 3s: People with four 3’s in their chart are likely to be severely hyperactive. There are relatively few of these people because the occurrence of four 3’s only happens rarely.

One 4: If you have just one 4 in your chart, you keep your imagination under tight control and focus on the facts and benefits, particularly for yourself, of any situation.

Two 4s: Two 4’s in your chart indicate that you prefer to focus on physical action, often to the almost total exclusion of the spiritual area.

This can help you achieve your goals but may interfere with your personal relationships.

Some people in this category may find themselves being manipulated when others take advantage of their desire for close friendship at almost any price.

Three or more 4s: If you have this many 4’s in your chart, your manual ability is likely to be far above average and this can help you succeed in your business ventures.

But, you will always be less successful in your personal relationships if you do not bother to give an appropriate level of attention to them.

One 5: You’re lucky if your chart has just one 5. It indicates a person with a mature understanding of their place in life and a rare ability to encourage others to their best efforts.
Two 5s: You have above average enthusiasm and vigor which is great when you don’t overpower everyone around you. Avoid alcohol and stimulants – you don’t need them!

Three or more 5s: Your above average drive and motivation can be great advantages. But, try to be considerate of others because your tendency to speak first and loudest can do damage in your business and personal encounters which may be very hard to recover from.

One 6: If you have just one 6 in your chart, your main focus is probably your home and family. Where you can find time from that focus, you can find success with almost any kind of artistic endeavor which appeals to you.

Two 6s: Your two 6’s indicate a deep, even over-protective attitude to your home and family which can interfere with your enjoyment of the environment you work so hard to create and maintain.

Try to rest and pass some responsibility to other family members. They care for you and appreciate your efforts. But, your single-minded focus is likely to worry them or even make them less responsive to you.

Three or more 6s: You need to step back a little before your obsession to protect and nurture your home and family have a serious negative effect on your own health.

Give others more responsibility and opportunities to contribute.

That will help to ensure that you all will be able to enjoy the fruits of your combined efforts in the future.

One 7: One 7 indicates a person that has to learn life’s lessons from personal experience which can be painful and costly.

But, when you have come through that, you have a wisdom based on experience which will help you prosper and give you many opportunities to share your knowledge with other people.

Two 7s: Two 7’s indicate that you will have even more hard times to surmount. Your options are very limited; to wither and fall or use the lessons to create a better future for yourself and those close to you.
Three 7s: Three 7’s may mean that you face huge struggles as you learn from experience. This can push you down lower than where you started. You will either give up the struggle and be consumed by your own bitter regrets of losses that you suffered or you will really learn the lessons and use them to build a firm foundation for your eventual, almost inevitable success.

One 8: One 8 shows that you pay attention to detail and this can be a great help in achieving whatever goal that you focus on. It is also a quality which can ensure that you succeed in your own business or become a valuable, trusted employee. Just make sure that your value to your employer is reflected in your pay. Of course, your attention to detail will probably ensure that.

Two 8s: Your attention to detail can border on obsession. Try to step back and focus some of your attention on other people’s needs and views. Otherwise, you can have the best ideas in the world but have great difficulty in having them accepted.

Three or more 8s: You will be restless, even driven, and this can make it hard to work with others unless you find a way to draw back and be more cooperative and patient.

One 9: This indicates you have a degree of inner strength which can be used to reach your goal, whatever it may be. Of course, the presence of the single nine cannot guarantee success.

You also need to prevent your goal of material success from taking over other goals including your desire for a home and family.

Two 9s: These indicate that you have a higher than average intelligence accompanied by a degree of idealism. You can succeed in service occupations or directing charitable organizations.

But, you will need to learn how to be less critical of the people you must deal with and motivate those who do not share your idealism or your other qualities.
Three or more 9s: You are endowed with above-average intelligence which can be a great advantage if you do not become isolated mentally from those around you who do not have your intellectual abilities.

To prevent burnout or mental instability, you need to consciously retain and increase the strength of your personal and professional links.

This will also help you when you want to use your humanitarian instincts to get help for the less fortunate people around the world or just in your neighborhood.
What the Power Lines Represent

The Power Lines are any row on the Speed Chart where all three boxes have at least one number in it.

Some people have said to me that they don’t believe they have the qualities which the presence of a filled Power Line in the Chart should indicate.

I believe that the Chart is probably an accurate indication that they have the indicated ability within them.

Sometimes, they have not tried to develop these inborn abilities or powers beyond the minimum level they have seen their peers display.

Many times, they could have been discouraged from showing and developing that power by negative comments or actions of parents and other people who were influential during their early years.

This can be a source of regret as you grow older. But, regret and worry are destructive of your self-image and can also seriously affect your health.

The best way to deal with it is to set aside time after you achieve some measure of independence to develop these powers so that they can enhance your life and also help those around you.

Please don’t leave it too long.

That also applies to some degree to Power Lines where you have no numbers in any of the boxes. I’ll explain those Empty Power Lines in the next chapter.

What Missing Numbers Indicate

Where your chart shows one or more numbers completely missing, the missing numbers may be considered as challenges rather than faults (which is the view promoted by some numerologists).

With the resources available to almost everyone today, there is no reason that you should need to accept that you cannot try and succeed to improve any aspect of yourself and your life when you choose to invest some time and energy doing so.
Missing 1: This indicates a need to develop a more independent attitude or you risk being controlled to a great extent by the needs and demands of other people.

Missing 2: You need to adjust your approach to show more appreciation of other people’s views and desires and a willingness to discuss more than demand your views always prevail.

Missing 3: The absence of any 3’s in your chart indicate that you need to develop your power to express yourself more clearly.

Missing 4: You need to become more organized so that you can progress your career faster and give yourself more family or social time.

Missing 5: With no 5 in your chart, you probably tend to exist in your comfortable rut rather than look for opportunities to meet new people and expand your business and social horizons. You must try to sample more of the vast variety of enjoyable experiences which are within your reach.

Missing 6: You need to develop a more responsible attitude to the needs and views of your family and others that depend on you.

Missing 7: You are focused almost exclusively on practical issues, mostly money and business. Your options would increase and your potential for greater success in both personal and business areas could increase if you widened your horizons to include the rest of what our world can offer.

Don’t stop, but slow down and smell the flowers – while you can!

Missing 8: You need to increase your motivation to get yourself out of where you are to where you can easily reach with just a little more drive and sharper focus.

Don’t just look at what you have. Look at what you are denying yourself and those who are close to you when you accept low rewards and a comfortable rut.

Missing 9: This indicates that you need to think more about others rather than focusing entirely on your own desires – you’ve probably already got your personal needs well taken care of through your obsession with work above all.
Full Power Lines

1, 2 and 3 Power Line
If you have the full 123 Power Line in your chart, you are someone that can organize tasks and remain focused to their completion.

You may not be as particular about tasks which you regard as less important or boring.

Sometimes, people with this Power Line develop a low opinion of other people who have less of this quality and many don’t hesitate to express that negative opinion! This can make their personal and business interactions less harmonious and productive than they could be if they showed respect and tolerance for the people around them.

4, 5 and 6 Power Line
If you have the full 456 Power Line, then you have plenty of inner strength and willpower. You should take full advantage of it but take care that your focus on achieving your own desires does not make you ignore the needs and opinions of those who are important to you.

7, 8 and 9 Power Line
The full 789 Power Line in your Chart indicates a focus on action. Properly directed, this can be a great asset for you.

But, the downside is that you may become stressed when unable to be as active as you want to be. You can become a disturbing influence on other people around you.

Forced inactivity might worry and frustrate you to the point where you develop headaches and even more serious medical symptoms.

Focus on the positive aspects – many people would be a little envious of your abundant energy and enthusiasm.

Don’t let negative thoughts or emotions reduce the benefits you can gain from channeling your desire for action in ways that enhance your life and your relationships.
1, 4 and 7 Power Line
If you have a filled 147 Power Line in your Chart, you have the capacity to use your hands to construct things. The way which you use this power will vary between individuals, from growing plants to building apartments or even cities.

Your power can be of great benefit to you financially but you may be less successful in building strong and enduring personal relationships.

2, 5 and 8 Power Line
The 258 Power Line is one to be prized as it indicates emotional balance and an enhanced ability for understanding and appreciating spirituality in your environment and other people.

This is helpful if you choose a career where you need to understand other people’s points of view and needs; negotiators of all types, counselors and teachers.

3, 6 and 9 Power Line
If you have the full 369 Power Line as part of your chart, then you have the ability to understand complex subjects and apply your knowledge.

Try to keep learning through your life, but I suggest that you focus on subjects which have some practical value for yourself and the rest of the world.

Some people with this Power Line become less tolerant of other people without it who struggle to keep up with them.

That’s something to avoid as no amount of learning is worth more than having some tried and trusted friends and colleagues.

1, 5 and 9 Power Line
Your filled 159 Power Line indicates strong determination to achieve your goals and desires.

This is a desirable power and especially valuable in our fast-paced world where obstacles, human and otherwise, are everywhere.
You need to develop some patience so that you don’t let out cries of frustration at any setback, however minor. This wastes energy and creates a poor impression with other people who see this less than professional display.

Maintain, as far as possible, your composure and your professional image. Put that pent-up frustration to work devising a way around, through or over the obstacle. I know you can do it!

3, 5 and 7 Power Line
If you have a full 357 Power Line in your chart, you have the ability and interest to understand and use the deepest mystical or religious concepts and practices. Other people can do this too but it will take more dedication, time and effort for them to achieve what is likely to be relatively easy for you.
What Empty Power Lines Indicate

1, 2 and 3 all Missing
This will not appear in the chart of anyone born in the 20th or 21st Century. You might want to theorize about what anyone without these three numbers in their chart might have to try to develop. But, it’s not got any practical value beyond the exercise you give your brain.

4, 5 and 6 all Missing
The absence of 4, 5 and 6 indicates that you may try to get by rather than use your abilities and knowledge to your full capability. In today’s highly competitive world, this usually means that you don’t achieve your most important goals and desires and you may develop a sense of bitterness and a high level of frustration.

This can lead to broken relationships and sickness.

The antidote is to find and use your abilities to the full. Accept and work on improving your ability in any area which you are not achieving success at the level you desire. Turn off the television and focus on making your mark in real life.

7, 8 and 9 all Missing
If 7, 8 and 9 are all missing from your chart, you may have difficulty in sticking with demanding tasks until you get them to a successful conclusion.

This can only be turned around when you realize what you are denying yourself and those close to you by letting yourself quit before the full value of your plans and effort are reached.

1, 4 and 7 all Missing
When there are no 1, 4 or 7 in your chart, it can indicate that you have strong views based mostly on what you have thought about and a lack of practical accomplishment because you find it difficult to stick with many tasks through to completion.

Many people with this indicator in their chart use the word, “should” a lot but lack the experience to say “I know this will be the result because I have done it”.

Setting this right involves sticking with the tasks you have until you complete them to a satisfactory standard.

Start small and use the confidence you develop from these accomplishments to inspire you to greater success and rewards in bigger and more demanding projects.

2, 5 and 8 all Missing

This will not occur in the chart of anyone born in the 20\textsuperscript{th} or 21\textsuperscript{st} Century.

So, I’ll leave this for you to use as a theoretical exercise: How would this lack affect an individual?

3, 6 and 9 all Missing

When you have none of these three numbers in your chart, numerologists believe it indicates a potential for poor memory that slowly gets worse.

My experience and reading about this gives me some hope that almost everyone can improve their memory and many people can maintain that faculty right through their lives.

Memory, in my non-scientific but practice-based opinion, is like a muscle that will respond, in most cases, to frequent and regular exercise.

If you don’t give it plenty to remember and also focus on whatever it is that you need or want to remember while it is in front of you, then it will be harder to maintain it in peak condition.

1, 5 and 9 all Missing

When all these numbers are absent, you will probably be a hesitant person that puts off as many things as you can.

This leads to disappointment and diminished chances of success in relationships and business.

The only way to empower yourself to reduce the effects of this is to focus on your objective and, especially, the improvement in your life which will happen when you prevail over this tendency.
For some people, the desire to avoid continued disappointment and recrimination from those around you is a greater spur than the potential rewards.

3, 5 and 7 all Missing

When you do not have these numbers in your chart, you are likely to question things more than most. You may doubt many commonly accepted beliefs but are likely to become a strong supporter of those claims which you find proven to your satisfaction.

You should try to be respectful of the beliefs and statements of other people even when you strongly disagree with their views.
Extended Simple Reading.

Here is a brief explanation of what I found in Mr Example’s Short Chart.

I would expand each item that I explained with him or it would be very dry and probably reduce his interest.

But, I would not include every item which I have listed here. Leave them wanting more, especially the first few times which you use the system.

Mr. Example  May 23 1989

If you are Mr Example, you will find that:

Lucky Number and Life Number: 1

Power Lines:

1 2 3 Shows the ability to organize well if you are interested in the project.

2 5 8 Able, if this power is developed, to understand others and accept your position in life.

1 5 9 Strong determination to achieve personal goals. Must develop some patience and understanding to better deal with setbacks and not explode over trivial delays.

Broken Lines

Missing Numbers

No 4 Develop your organizational skill. You may have it but not be using it.

No 6 Be more respectful and accommodating of the needs and views of those closest to you.
No 7 Try to broaden your horizons on a personal as well as a business level. Take some time to enjoy what you have and all the wonderful treasures which nature and other people provide.

NO Empty Power Lines.

Personal Year: 3

Numbers

1 Some ability to express himself and desire for independence

2 Ability to work well with other people

3 Your happiness level and memory are okay but both could improve with a little effort

5 Generally happy with who and where he is. Able to encourage others to give their best.

8 Good eye for detail which helps with whatever you undertake.

99 Good intelligence and some idealism which must be tempered by sincere effort to consult and include other's views and goals.
The Ageless Appeal of Numerology

Numerology is a system of applying meaning to numbers and relating them to people’s lives and, sometimes, other aspects of their lives such as their names.

It was old when Pythagoras studied and taught it.

It has been adopted by various authors, including my two favorites; Juno Jordan and Cheiro.

Many groups adapted it to include a relationship to their beliefs, including people that believe in reincarnation whose contribution of Debt and Karmic Numbers has been accepted by most numerologists now though many, like me, do not infer the same spiritual significance that the reincarnation people do.

I have not had any trouble from people about numerology. I just ask they recognize that I respect their opinions and ask that they respect mine.

Many astrologers, amateur and professional, use numerology in their work.

Many people use computer programs to produce Numerology Charts and I suppose there’s nothing wrong with that if that’s easier for you.

But, the calculations you need to do are, at most, very simple.

The Quick Method that I explain in great detail in the second half of the book lets you produce a chart and a reading using nothing more than a pen and a business card!

I prefer to do my charts by hand and in front of the person whose chart I am doing. I welcome their questions and comments, even if they are very skeptical.

I just can’t imagine them giving anything I say much respect if I had to use a computer to produce a simple chart.

But, some programs make it easy to produce charts which are like works of art. I have not tried them so I cannot say if their content is as good as the color displays.
I hope that your study and use of numerology with the help of my book will give you and your friends as much pleasure as I have gained from it over many happy years.
